HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

Personal Interests

Soccer is my greatest passion, a sport I have played since I was a child both at an amateur level and in local teams. Playing soccer has taught me fundamental values such as teamwork, respect for the rules, stress management, and the importance of consistent effort to achieve a goal. Participating in tournaments and training sessions has also helped me develop a spirit of sacrifice, leadership, and communication skills—qualities that I believe are useful both in school and in professional settings.
